

Welcome to Garcia's Corner!

MARISA GARCIA

Marisa Garcia is a 6th grade ELA teacher. She went to two colleges - Eastern New Mexico University Roswell, and Portales. Her being an ELA teacher was an accident. Her first endorsement was a Social Studies teacher. Then she started subbing and going to school. She noticed there were more openings for ELA teachers than any other position, so she ended up taking an extra class to teach ELA. She enjoys being an ELA teacher when the students make progress and the relationships she gets to build with the students. This year was her 9th year of teaching. When the kids aren't doing well in class, she says, "Let's take it one day at a time, and tomorrow is a new day, and if today we couldn't get anything done, we can move on and start fresh."

DANIA GARCIA

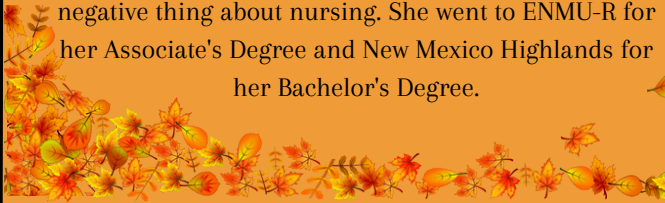

Dania Garcia is a Math teacher at Mountain View Middle School. She went to the New Mexico State in Alamogordo and she went to New Mexico Highlands in Las Vegas. She wanted to be a math teacher because she loves math and she has always wanted to be a teacher ever since she was little, that's the only thing she's been wanting to be. What she enjoys about teaching is not making kids afraid of math, because everyone is afraid of math and it's not a scary thing. She has been teaching for 8 years. If they are having a bad day she tries to be the positive person in their life and gives them an hour of positivity like a high five or a hug and whatever they need.

NURSE PEREZ

She enjoys nursing because she likes working with kids, considering she also has kids of her own. She also enjoys the chances she gets to gain a bond with her students. She came to Mt. View because it was the place with an open position. She has been nursing for 10 years! The thing she enjoys most about nursing is how many specialties it has so if there is one you don't enjoy there is another that you might. When she is asked about something she dislikes about nursing, she states that she enjoys it very much and can't think of a negative thing about nursing. She went to ENMU-R for her Associate's Degree and New Mexico Highlands for her Bachelor's Degree.

CHAMPIONS OF VOLLEYBALL

Our Security Guard

The fun things that he likes are riding his bike, going hiking, being outdoors, and shopping. He decided to be a security guard because he spent 32 years in the military. He feels like he still needs to give more to his community. His favorite color is blue, but if it's a sports car, he likes dark green.
